

IN THE ABSTRACT:

Please add the following abstract to the end of the specification:

The present invention relates to the use of a compound which is capable of inhibiting activation of a growth factor receptor of the EGFR-family for the prevention or treatment of processes associated with increased G-protein mediated signal transduction.